

Ireland Historical Society

Hunt for History Contest

The Ireland Historical Society Museum is located in a church built in 1878 by the Ireland Methodist Church. Regular church services were held here for 118 years. It is the oldest remaining structure in Ireland. Inside, the lower level is like a walk through Ireland history. Photos and memorabilia reflect the rich history of the Irish Settlement.

On Saturday March 14, from 10:00-3:00, Check out the walls of pictures in the basement and answer the 20 questions for your chance to win prizes!!
